

Hail Queen—Mary Lynn Brandt

Mary Lynn Brandt, 20-year-old sophomore from San Leandro, will reign Friday as queen of Spardi Gras.

Miss Brandt won yesterday's final election to gain the coveted title. Her attendants will be Charleen Chew and Nan Hartley, second and third place winners.

The tanned lass was born in Berkeley, and attended San Leandro high before coming to State. She combines green eyes and light brown hair with a queenly figure. Her 110 pounds are neatly spread over a 5 ft. 4 in. frame.

While interested in all sports, Mary Lynn confesse a preference for swimming and riding, and finds Santa Cruz the best place in which to swim and relax.

This "Centennial Sweetheart" was the choice of Kappa Kappa Gamma and Kappa Alpha in the queen contest and was presented to the Student Body last Tuesday night in a rally given by the two organizations. She made her entrance at the close of the "Dixieland" show in a cardboard treasure chest.

When interviewed last night, Miss Brandt said that she was "very thrilled and honored" to win the election. "I want to thank everyone who voted for me, and to thank also the members of the committee who were so kind and considerate at all times," she said.

Members of Kappa Alpha serenaded their sweetheart last night and presented Miss Brandt with a bouquet of roses.

Classes Halt Tomorrow For Dr. Cleland's Speech

All 10:30 classes will be dismissed tomorrow to enable students and faculty members to attend a speech by Dr. Robert Glass Cleland, Huntington library historian.

Dr. Cleland will speak on "The Valley of Dry Bones" in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

The address is designed to appeal to give the layman a view of California history.

Dr. Cleland will be introduced by Pres. T. W. MacQuarrie. The college band will play two selections.

Following his talk, the visiting historian will be feted at a luncheon in the Oyster Loaf Grill by Beta Lambda chapter of Phi Alpha Theta, national honorary history fraternity.

ROBERT G. CLELAND

was donated to the World Student Service Fund by Harry Langfelder, San Jose jewelry store proprietor. It will be a perpetual award with the winning organization's name being engraved on the base, Pitman said.

Pitman also reminded organizations who still have WSSF tags and envelopes to return them at once to the Graduate Manager's office, room 16.

Bean Feed Tickets Go Off Sale Today

Today is the last day to buy tickets for the Spardi Gras Bean Feed, announced Bill Martin, chairman.

"A Bean Feed on Spardi Gras day will be something new for most of the kids," Martin said, "but it was an annual affair before the war."

Martin added that for those who like entertainment while they dine, (even on beans) Bill Gillis will emcee an hour show packed with such experienced entertainers as the "540 Boys," the "Dull skulls," Tommy Pratt, Jack Wenzel, Keith Gaard, and Boyd Johnson's orchestra.

From 11-11:30 a.m. the show will be broadcast over KSJO and from 11:30-12 the entertainers can say what they want.

The "Dull Skulls" will sing "Ragtime Cowboy Joe," and "Dixie." The "540 Boys" will sing "Hannah," and "Cigarettes, Rye Whiskey, and Wild, Wild Women"; Tommy Pratt has two vocals; Jack Wenzel will do a Peter Lorre routine, "My Old Flame."

Keith Gaard, who made his appearance in the Kappa Alpha and Kappa Kappa Gamma queen rally will play several numbers on his banjo. Boyd Johnson's orchestra, which played in Lambda Chi and Delta Zeta's queen rally, will play several special arrangements.

The Bean Feed will take place on the San Carlos turf, and the show will take place on the Art Wing steps during the Feed.

Officials To Discuss College Master Plan

San Jose State college officials are meeting today in Sacramento with Mr. Stanley Willard of the state division of architecture to discuss the master plan proposed by Dr. Charles Bursch.

Building details, including the addition of laboratories in the basement of the Science building and the erection of the proposed Speech department building are being discussed, according to President T. W. MacQuarrie.

Bids for the addition to the Women's gymnasium will be asked June 10. They will be opened 30 days later and construction should start during the summer. The gym will cost an estimated $500,000.

Dr. MacQuarrie conferred several times with other state college presidents on the proposed budget during his recent trip to Sacramento. They hoped to restore certain items having to do with teachers who supervise the work of student teachers in the colleges.

The funds were deleted by an assembly committee, but Dr. MacQuarrie says they may be restored.

Shades of Darwin! Batiks Evolve, Too

"The Evolution of Batiks" is the title of a display featured this week in the Home Economics building. This display was planned and arranged by Elizabeth Naylor, junior P. E. major, for Dr. Jones' class in home economics methods.

Batiking is a method of executing designs in color onto cloth.

The exhibit first shows the methods, tools and dyes used by Javanese to make the first batiks in about the 12th century. Shown next is the stamp used to apply wax, which was invented later and greatly improved the long and tedious process. Stamps were first made of wood and later of metal.

Batiking requires a large measure of skill, patience and artistry. A good batik takes several weeks to complete because of the tedious hand operation involved in its manufacture, as the exhibit shows.

America's modern adaptations, so popular at the present time, concludes the display by showing the connection between past and present batiks.

The materials on display are shown through the courtesy of Miss Martha E. Thomas, and Miss Anna L. Loze of the Home Economics department and Dolores Nance.

Lyon Wins Election For Representative

Ray Lyon, junior commerce major from San Francisco, narrowly defeated Dale LaMar yesterday in a run-off election to become representative-at-large to the Student Council.

Lyon, winner of the 175-pound novice wrestling title last fall, is business manager for Spardi Gras and is a member of Theta Mu Sigma fraternity. This is his first student body office.

Marilyn Russell and Marian Bell were victorious yesterday in a close AWS run-off election for the offices of second vice president and secretary respectively, according to Barbara "Jeff" Brewster, AWS president.

Miss Russell defeated her opponent, Melba Sill by 287 votes to 265.

Miss Bell polled 265 while Miss Merritt's, had 257.

Spardi Gras Day Parade To Touch Off Celebration

The first annual Spardi Gras Day parade will leave the Student Union at 12:15 p.m. Friday, wend it's way through San Jose, and then arrive at the Spardi Gras grounds to touch off the most elaborate celebration in the history of the college, parade chairman John Gregory announced yesterday.

Organizations participating in the affair will assemble at the Union at 11:30 to form the line of March.

The procession will proceed down Fourth street to Santa Clara, up Santa Clara to First street, down First to San Carlos, and down San Carlos to the Spardi Gras grounds by the men's gym.

A marching band will head the parade, and the Spardi Gras queen and king will bring up the rear. The fraternity and sorority backing the queen will march directly in front of the royal buckboard, in which the royal pair will be drawn by two white Brahma bulls.

Musicians To Present Centennial Concert

By HAL SOUSA

One of the outstanding musical events of the year is in store for the local public when the Music department of San Jose State college presents its "California Centennial" concert in the Civic auditorium at 8:30 p.m. Thursday. The program features the college's 90-piece Symphony orchestra and 70-voice a cappella choir. Directing the orchestra will be Dr. Lyle Downey, Music department head. Mr. William J. Erlendson will lead the group of mixed voices.

Dr. Downey has prepared a program to honor California's 100th birthday. Some of the most talented soloists on the Spartan campus will sing Thursday night.

Soloists include Thomas Ryan, visiting professor of music from New York City, who will play Edward MacDowell's "Concerto No. 2 in D Minor" for piano and orchestra. Mr. Ryan has appeared with the orchestra in the past and is well-remembered by the concert-going public.

Vocal soloists include Gloria Surian, soprano; Priscilla Phillips, contralto; and Wesley Walton, baritone. Concluding selection on the program is "The Rio Grande" to be performed by Elizabeth Pitman, student piano soloist.

The choir will join the soloist and orchestra in this final number of the Centennial concert.

Students and the public are invited to attend. No admission will be charged.

Paintings depicting "100 Years in California Art" are now on exhibit in the Reserve Book room of the library. This is one of three exhibitions offered by the Art department in conjunction with San Jose State College's celebration of the California Centennial.

Twenty paintings borrowed from museums in San Francisco, Oakland, and Palo Alto are on display from June 1-4. Arrangements for the loan of the paintings were made by Dr. Marques Reitzel, head of the college Art department, with the California Palace of the Legion of Honor, the Oakland Art gallery, the M. H. De Young Memorial museum and the Stanford university museum.

Major Earl R. Kingsley, assistant professor of military science and tactics for air at San Jose State college, will lead a discussion on "Practical Leadership" at the Student Y's Dime-A-Mite today at 12:30, according to Mrs. Eleanor Jobs, chairman of the affair.

The paintings are representative of the work of well-known California artists from 1849 to the present.

"Never before has such an exhibit been shown in San Jose," Dr. Reitzel said. "We are fortunate in being able to assemble a collection of this kind as part of our observance of California's 100th birthday."

The display includes a painting by Rosenthal entitled, "Cardinal's Portrait" which is said to be worth $100,000. There are also paintings by Dong Kingman, Charles Christian, James Harrington, Thomas Hill, L. P. Latimer, William Keith, and William Clapp.

The exhibit will be open today and Thursday from 7:30 a.m.-9:30 p.m. On Friday it will be open from 7:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. and from 7-8 p.m. On Saturday it will be open from 9 a.m.-1 p.m., from 2-5:30 p.m. and from 7-8 p.m.

Dr. Gayle B. Pickwell Loses Fight for Life

By JOHN LARSEN

Dr. Gayle B. Pickwell, professor emeritus of zoology from San Jose State college, died Sunday night in the Veterans' hospital, Oakland. Dr. Pickwell came to Washington Square in the fall of 1927 after obtaining his doctorate at Cornell university. He had previously graduated from Nebraska university and had completed graduate courses at Northwestern and Columbia.

"Dr. Pickwell was one of the most distinguished men on the Science staff," Dr. Carl Duncan, acting head of the department, said. "His photographic work was superb, his books excellent, and his magazine articles were works of perfection."

Wrote Many Books

Among his later works were such books as "Animals in Action", "Birds", "Deserts", and "Weather." His last complete book, published two years ago by the Stanford Press, was "Amphibians and Reptiles of the Pacific States."

"Film strips, photos and articles by Dr. Pickwell were used throughout the country in public school systems," Dr. Duncan said. "He was a member of the state committee which prepared a series of 52 Science Guide booklets for the lower grades."

A great deal of the editorial content and most of the photographic work in a series of books called, "Western Nature", which was published through the Natural Science department here, was done by Dr. Pickwell.

While an instructor at State he taught such courses as general zoology, comparative anatomy, embryology, and ecology.

"He was an outstanding instructor," Dr. Duncan confirmed. "His following among the students was enormous and there were always large turnouts whenever he scheduled an extra-curricular field trip lecture."

Struck by Illness

The illness that finally caused death to come to Dr. Pickwell was multiple sclerosis. He was first aware that he had contracted this 'mystery' disease in 1931 and became a self-admitted guinea pig to any specialist who wanted to try a new cure for the sickness. He taught as long as he could retain enough control of himself so that he felt he was not a bother, finally retiring from the faculty at the end of spring quarter, 1946.

The renowned science writer's last published work includes a series of articles, dictated to his secretary and friend, Mrs. Mary Harris of the San Jose State college Journalism department, which appeared in "Pacific Discovery" magazine. Dr. Pickwell dictated material to Mrs. Harris until a short time before his death.

Funeral services will be held at 3:15 p.m. Thursday, in the Golden Gate National Cemetery chapel. This change was announced last night by Mrs. Pickwell.

"Mrs. Pickwell has asked that no flowers be sent for the services or the interment which will follow at Golden Gate National cemetery, San Bruno," Dr. Duncan revealed, "but rather that the money be donated, through the San Jose State Science department, to the National Multiple Sclerosis Research society. Donations for the society will be accepted in the Science office."

Two Sunday Hikes For Sierra Club

The Sierra club has extended an invitation to anyone from San Jose State college to hike from Big Basin to Berry Creek falls, Sunday, according to Nora Lynch, Co Rec chairman.

"There will be two hikes—a 10 mile and a 15 mile—and there is a choice," Miss Lynch announced. "All you need to bring is your lunch," she added.

For reservations and more information regarding the hike contact Earl Roberts, Bal. 2417-R.

Ball To Promote Centennial Theme

The Centennial theme of Spardi Gras will be carried out this year in decorations for the Spardi Gras dance Friday at the Civic auditorium, according to Betty Brisbin, Social Affairs chairman.

Wally Heider and his orchestra will provide the music. Frank Darian, disc jockey from "Cell 13" of KSJO, will emcee. Darian will introduce the Spardi Gras queen, who will reign over the dance.

Admission will be to ASB cardholders only. Attire will be dressy.

Judoists Win

Johnson, Ireland Triumph Twice in Black Belt Tourney

By ART BRICKEY

Johnny Johnson, penology student and Homer Ireland police major, won trophies at a dual judo tournament held in Los Angeles Sunday according to judo instructor Yosh Uchida.

In the meet which was sponsored by the Southern California Black Belt association, 13 members of the police school participated in 21 elimination matches. Johnson and Ireland tied for third place, and were given 8-inch trophies. A first degree brown belt judoist from L. A. took first place, and a white belter from there took second.

Johnson disposed of his Japanese opponents rather quickly by throwing them. Ireland hailed his foes with a choke hold on one, and by pinning the other. Harold Chapman's match resulted in a fiercely contested draw with a 220 pound adversary.

Merle Coe and Bob Harpainter each fought to draws, while Bob Galli won and drew in his two matches. Muri Tullis defeated the judoist who later won the tournament, but later lost to a black belter. Other men who made the trip were: Earl Harris, John Willis, Warren Ramey, Harry Carlsson, Lloyd Luther, Paul Murphy, and Robert Tobin.

Commenting on the event Monday, Coach Uchida stated that the Association officials had commended his men on their sportsmanship and have been invited to a return meet in December.

Spartan Spikesters Face Busy Weekend

By HANK PLYMIRE

Going into the final stretch of the track season, the Spartan cinder stars face their busiest week end of the campaign Friday and Saturday.

Friday night, Bob Crowe, George Mattos, Woody Linn and Mel Martin will participate in the Compton Invitational Relays and Saturday they'll join the rest of Coach Bud Winter's aggregation at Berkeley—scene of the Pacific Athletic Association meet.

Herb McKinley, world's fastest quarter-miler will run in the 440, according to a recent announcement by P. A. Track Commissioner Harold Berliner. McKinley set a new world record of 46.0 last year, with the San Francisco prep star Ollie Matson, following him in 47.1.

Sparta's Stu Inman ran his fastest quarter in this race, when he placed fourth in the excellent time of 48.6. Inman will enter the event again Saturday.

McKinley will have three Stanford 440 men pushing him in the persons of Larry Hoff, Pitch Johnson and Cass Bly. Jim Lytjen, Olympic Club runner will also offer competition and Matson, now a USF athlete, may elect to run, although he has indicated a preference for the sprints.

Dore Furdy, San Jose distance ace has been out with a pulled muscle since the Fresno Relays, has been looking good in practice and evidently is fully recovered. Coach Winter also said he will return with the four Spartans entered in the Compton meet-to San Francisco at 8:40 Saturday morning. This will be in time for any heats that will have to be run prior to the afternoon Berkeley affair.

HAMPTON POOL

Blatt Places 5th Spartan Ski Squad Stymied by Storm

For the third year in a row, old man winter tossed a storm at the Mammoth Mountain Memorial day ski races, and five Spartans ski-fiends froze in their summer ski clothes.

Leaving all their winter equipment behind in San Jose, the skiers left Friday night for the Giant Slalom races sponsored by the Bishop Ski club. Racing for San Jose State were Herb Blatt, Ski team captain; Dave Brown, Ski club president; Allen Jones and Dick Scott, Ski club members. Rich Larson made the trip, but did not race.

Racing over a 35-gate course with a drop of over 2000 feet, Blatt finished fifth in the Class "A" division with a time of 1:20.4. Norm McCloed, Bishop Ski club, won the event in 1:11.3. In the Class "B" division, Brown placed twelfth in 1:31.2, Scott finished fifteenth in 1:36 flat, and Jones ended up in seventeenth spot in 1:38.4. The Class "B" race was won by Frank Bamburger, UCLA, in 1:17.3. It was run over a shortened course.

Charlotte Zunstein won the women's Class "A" with a time of 1:32.3. The women's course was run over the "B" course. The race was run off the face of Mammoth Mountain over very icy and rough conditions with poor visibility. Many racers got lost between the gates and had to drop out. The gates in a giant slalom are sometimes over 40 yards apart. Despite the conditions, the race was run off very well, according to most of the racers.

There are five rope-tows there that will run until July 4th, or until there is no more snow. At the present, there is plenty.
